WILLIAM B. KELSALL, }

CHARLES-TOWN, MAY 3.

THERE is no Foundation for the Report which prevailed a few Days ago, that His Majesty had rewarded the Services of His Honour our present Lieutenant-Governor (upon whom the Administration of the Affairs of this Province has devolved at Five different very difficult and important Periods) by appointing His Honour to be our Governor in Chief: On the Contrary, there are Grounds for a Belief, that the Right Honourable Lord William Campbell, the present Governor of Nova-Scotia, is, or will be, promoted from that Government to this. Sir Basil Keith, another Native of North-Britain, it is confidently written, hath had the Government of Jamaica conferred upon him.

Last Tuesday Evening Alexander Inglis, Esq; was married to Miss Polly Deas, a very agreeable and accomplished young Lady, eldest Daughter of John Deas, Esquire.

Mr. Edward Lightwood was chosen a Commissioner of the Markets and Work-House, last Wednesday. And Mr. Isaac Lesesne a Church-Warden for St. Philip's Parish, in the Room of the late Thomas-Loughton Smith, Esquire.

On Wednesday last put in here, the Sloop Hope, George May, Master, from Philadelphia bound for St. Augustine.

Last Thursday died, Capt. William Dancey, Master of the Ship Prosper, of Bristol, lying in the Road, outward bound for Cowes.

That Evening Capt. James Cusack was married to Miss Anne Brown, Daughter of the late Doctor Robert Brown.

On Friday, amongst other Passengers in the Carolina-Packet, Capt. White, from London, arrived Mr. Richard Wade, Mr. Paul Mazyck, Capt. Henry Reeves, Mrs. Reeves, &c.

Last Saturday the Sandwich Packet-Boat, commanded by Capt. Richard Notingham, arrived with two Mails from Falmouth.

A few Days since, Dr. Thomas Elder, of St. Thomas's Parish, was married to the agreeable Miss Charlotte Hartley, of the same Parish.

The 14th Regiment of foot is returned from St. Vincent's, to St. Augustine, and the 31st sailed for England.

The Public being at a Loss to know, at what Rates light Half-Johannes's, Moidores, &c. should now be taken, according to their intrinsic Value, we are desired to acquaint our Readers, that they need only deduct Fifteen-pence Currency for every Grain of Gold they may be deficient in Weight,—but they must be upon their Guard against receiving those that are made of base Metal.

Since our last 37,319 Pounds of Indico has been shipped for London—and 3,675 Bushels of INDIAN CORN.

The Quantity of Rice cleared from this Port alone, since the 1st of November last, now amounts to 93,236 Tierces.——The Price 65s. per 100 lb.

 Several Favours from our Correspondents have been received, which shall be published as soon as we can spare Room. The Presentments and Defaulters of Orangeburgh District, and a Number of NEW ADVERTISEMENTS, are omitted to make Room for European Intelligence, but shall be inserted next Week.

Little as the importation of American wheat is encouraged in this country, the Spaniards are well acquainted with its value; and whilſt we are by the fatherly care of our governors left expoſed to all the miſeries of famine, even in the boſom of peace, they are induſtriouſly providing, by well-ſtored magazines, againſt the inconvenience of long ſieges, in caſe a war ſhould take place.

His Majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint Sir Francis Bernard, Bart. John-Monk Maſon, Robert Waller, William Montgomery, and Richard Townſhend, Eſqrs. to be Commiſſioners of Exciſe in Ireland.

An evening paper ſays, that the owner of the famous running horſe Eclipſe, having, a few nights ſince, had a propoſal made to him for purchaſing it, mentioned the following as the terms; 20,000l. down, an annuity of 500l. well ſecured during his life, and three brood-mares.

FEBRUARY 4.

Tueſday afternoon, between four and five o'clock, the long ſubſiſting difference between Lord Townſhend and the Earl of Bellamont was finally decided in Mary-le-bone fields. The noble Peers behaved to each other in the field with great politeneſs: They were armed with ſmall ſwords, and a caſe of piſtols; but it was agreed to uſe the latter firſt. When they had taken their ground, Lord Bellamont took off his hat, which was returned by Lord Townſhend, who aſked his antagoniſt which ſhould fire firſt. Lord Bellamont anſwered, he begged Lord Townſhend would, which was immediately complied with; when the former received a dangerous wound, the ball entering on the right ſide juſt above the groin, and ſettling near the back-bone. Lord Bellamont diſcharged his piſtol immediately after, but without any effect. The ſeconds were, the Hon. Mr. Dillon for Lord Bellamont, and Lord Ligonier for Lord Townſhend. Lord Bellamont was immediately taken up and put into a chaiſe, but, from the agony ariſing from his wound, he could not bear the motion; a chair was therefore inſtantly ſent for, and he was with great pain put into it, and carried to his Lodgings, where, when he arrived, he deſired to be laid on his back. Mr. Broomfield, and other ſurgeons, were immediately called in, who endeavoured, but in vain, for a long time, to extract the ball.

The ball which wounded Lord Bellamont, fell down between the inteſtines of the muſcles of the thigh, it penetrated the lower part of the belly, near what the anatomiſts call the ring of the abdominal muſcle, and narrowly miſſed the inguinal artery, which if it had wounded, muſt have proved inſtant death.

About one o'clock this day, Lord Bellamont's caſe was thought very deſperate. The ball was not then extracted, nor were the ſurgeons able to trace it. His Lordſhip is in a kind of ſitting poſture, as any other occaſions him great torture. He ſpeaks very highly of the behaviour of Lord Townſhend at the time of engagement. His Lordſhip has a Lady and ſeven children.

A correſpondent ſays, that on Tueſday morning Lord Townſhend made his will and and ſettled all his affairs; and juſt before he ſet out to meet Lord Bellamont near Marybone, took leave of his children in ſo parental, but yet ſo manly a manner, as greatly affected all who were preſent at ſo tender a ſcene.

It is aſſerted, that the original of the above quarrel between the Lords Townſhend and Bellamont was, that the latter ſolicited the former to fill up the late vacancy of Adjutant General of his Majeſty's forces in Ireland, which Lord Townſhend had promiſed to uſe his intereſt to obtain for him, but that failing therein through the decay of his Excellency's intereſt on this ſide of the water, owing to the death of his brother, his pride would not ſuffer him to own it, which made him trifle with Lord Bellamont, for, after ſeveral repeated attendances by appointment, on all which occaſions he had been put off without ſeeing Lord Townſhend, did again wait upon his Lordſhip by appointment, the aid de camp in waiting having been down to Lord Bellamont and returned, addreſſed his Lordſhip in an audible voice, and acquainted him, "that he need not ſtay any longer, for that Lord Townſhend would not be at leiſure to ſee him that day;" and at the ſame time turning to ſeveral perſons of different ranks and profeſſions, he told them, "that Lord Townſhend requeſted they would wait, as his Lordſhip would ſee them, however late it might be before he could finiſh with them," or words to that effect. Lord Bellamont replied to the aid de camp, "his Excellency will be pleaſed to aſcertain at what time he will ſee me. I have already waited ſeveral times by appointment, and have been ſent away each time." To which the aid de camp brought back the following meſſage to Lord Bellamont: "His Excellency commands me to tell your Lordſhip, that he uſually does military buſineſs on Wedneſdays, and any other buſineſs on Thurſdays; that if your Lordſhip comes on either of thoſe days, and that his Excellency ſhall be at leiſure, he will ſee you among others in your turn." To which Lord Bellamont replied, "Sir, you will be ſo good as to inform his Excellency, that as a Peer of the realm, I have a right to audience; but if his Excellency does not know what he owes to me, I know what I owe to myſelf, and therefore will not wait on him here or elſewhere. I will write a letter to his Excellency, ſtating my buſineſs, to which I expect he will ſhew due attention."——The cauſe, we are told, was, that the poſt which Lord Bellamont ſolicited, was previouſly promiſed to, and beſtowed on Colonel Luttrell, before his Majeſty was acquainted with the promiſe of his Vicero to Lord Bellamont.

FEBRUARY 6.

It is ſaid that a new mode of granting lands in America is under conſideration, which will be more advantageous to the Crown than the preſent ſyſtem; and that ſixpence per acre will be demanded for the Fee Simple of all lands which ſhall hereafter be parcelled out to applicants in this kingdom. It is further ſaid, that no more American lands will be granted till the above meaſure is either adopted, or laid aſide.

If Lord Bellamont ſhould not ſurvive, which at preſent ſeems too probable, the acquitting Lord Townſhend in form before the tribunal of his Peers, will coſt the kingdom at leaſt 30,000l.

The Miniſtry are in a great conſternation at a late unhappy duel, as in caſe the unfortunate nobleman ſhould die, the author of his death cannot be brought in guilty of Manſlaughter, and the King will be under the neceſſity of ſupporting his ſervant, which may create clamour, after the ſtories of M'Quirk, Balfe, and the Scotch ſerjeant.

We hear that Colonel W—ſh is expected to ſet ſail for this kingdom immediately, to effect what Lord Bellamont miſſed of, an expreſs being ſent off to that gentleman on Tueſday night laſt for that purpoſe; and ſhould he not ſucceed, there are a number of other Iriſh gentlemen who think themſelves ſo particularly injured in their honour during a late Adminiſtration, that they are determined every one of them, ſucceſſively, to demand ſatisfaction.

FEBRUARY 9.

A Great Perſonage, it is ſaid, has offered Lord Townſhend his protection in caſe of any future challenge.

It is ſaid, that in order to check the ſpirit of dueling, which ſeems to be rapidly reviving in this kingdom, the legiſlature will render the conſequences to both parties the ſame as in caſes of high treaſon, viz. a confiſcation of their eſtates, and extinction of their titles.

Advice is received from Madrid, that Prince Maſarano, late an Ambaſſador at this Court, has prevailed upon the King his maſter, to give him leave to ſend an order to the Governors of the Havannah, Carthagena, and other gariſons, where there are any ſailors confined belonging to his Britannic Majeſty, under pretence of their carrying on an illegal trade, to immediately releaſe them, and to provide them with ſuch neceſſaries as they want, and to ſend them to England, or any other place they deſire to be ſent to.

The Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick has entered into the ſervice of his Pruſſian Majeſty, in quality of General of the Infantry, and the King has given him the regiment now in gariſon at Halberſtadt.

HAGUE, (Holland) February 2. The ſoldier who attempted to impoſe upon the Prince Stadtholder has been publicly whipped, with a rope about his neck, afterwards branded, and is ſince ſent to the houſe of correction for fifty years.

BRUSSELS, (Germany) February 1. The ſeveral advices received from Spain unanimouſly announce, that the troops of that kingdom are in motion; that all the Generals and officers had received orders to join their regiments, and that an army is to be aſſembled in Catalonia.

LONDON, FEBRUARY 12.

A few days ſince, Mr. Roberts, a Carolina merchant, was married to Mrs. Bowles, widow of the late Mr. Bowles, of St. Paul's, church-yard.

Anecdote of Lord Bellamont.—When his Lordſhip, then Mr. Coote, headed a party of the ſoldiers againſt the White Boys, (in quality of a country gentleman and a magiſtrate, and not as an officer) and had come up with the main body, conſiſting of ſeveral thouſand men, he deſired the ſoldiers might halt, and bravely making up himſelf ſingly to the deſperadoes, he drew out a piſtol, and ſhot the ringleader dead on the ſpot, and immediately cried out to the White Boys, "Gentlemen, put yourſelves under my command, I am of no party, neither your's, nor government's, but am a friend to both; leave it to my management, I will ſettle it to your ſatisfaction." They huzza'd immediately; they ſubmitted immediately; and thus, by the intrepidity and addreſs of Mr. Coote alone, an end was put to an inſurrection, the moſt alarming that has been in that country in the preſent age. It was a bold exploit, ſcarcely paralleled in hiſtory, that led Mr. Coote to the diſtinction and honours that followed. This was in the Duke of Northumberland's Lieutenancy in Ireland; and when Mr. Coote, at the recommendation of his Grace, was created a Knight of the Bath, he was generally called, the Duke of Northumberland's Red Knight.

This day Benjamin Hopkins, Eſq; was choſen Alderman of Broad-ſtreet Ward, in the room of Alderman Roſſeter, deceaſed. Previous to his being choſen, a Court of Aldermen was held to make him free of the city.

A letter from Warrington, dated the 9th inſt. concludes thus: "I do not know how proviſions are with you, but here every thing is ſcarce and exceſſive dear, and trade quite dead. There are multitudes of people going out of this country to ſettle in America, where work and proviſions are believed to be plenty."

FEBRUARY 13.

Within this day or two another quarrel has broke out in Adminiſtration. The Lords Mansfield and Rochford, and Sir Gilbert Elliot, oppoſe Lord North in his Eaſt-India ſcheme; they are for giving the territorial revenue of the Eaſt to the Crown; Lord North is againſt it; he foreſees it will occaſion more trouble and buſineſs than he is able to manage.

They write from Peterſburgh, that letters have been received from certain Ruſſia Merchants trading to North Tartary, of a late diſcovery having been made of an Iſland, ſuppoſed, from various circumſtances, to be the very place from whence America was firſt peopled, that continent being but at a little diſtance; and the firſt migration is thought to have been made by large bodies of Ice, the inhabitants, who live by fiſhing, being ſometimes carried off to ſea thereon even at this day.

Boat-builders are ſo much wanted in the Engliſh ſettlements in Africa, that a common ſhip-carpenter is paid after the rate of 20l. ſterling per month, on engaging to remain for a limited time in the country.

The liſt of bankrupts in this day's gazette, contain no fewer than fifteen names; a greater number than has yet appeared at one time in that paper ſince it was firſt printed in the year 1666.

Roſes, to the honour of humanity, in theſe times when the poor are ſtarving, were ſold this week at the Fruit-ſhops in St. James's-ſtreet, at the moderate price of 16 s. a piece.

FEBRUARY 15.

This day Prince de Czartoriſky, a Poliſh nobleman, who has been ſome time in this kingdom, having previouſly taken leave of his Majeſty, ſet out on his return home.

Five hundred poor farmers, belonging to the north of Ireland, are preparing to embark for America, as they find they cannot longer ſubſiſt on their lands, loaded as they are by their maſters, with taxes and rents, which have within the laſt ſix years been increaſed three, four, five, and ſix fold. Accounts of the ſame nature have arrived from the North of Scotland, where the public diſtreſs is equally dreadful.

LONDON, FEBRUARY 18.

Some advices have been received from America, which have occaſioned the calling of a Cabinet-Council this evening at Lord Rochford's office; and it is ſaid ſome orders have been ſent to Ireland on the above occaſion, for ſome troops to hold themſelves in readineſs for embarkation.

The remainder of the preſent ſeſſion is not likely to be peaceable as the Miniſtry apprehended at the commencement; and therefore a ſtrong alarm is viſible in the various departments of government.

DUBLIN, February 9. After the duel was over on Saturday morning laſt, between the Right Honourable Lord Blaquiere and Beauchamp Bagenal, Eſq; without any hurt received on either ſide, the latter having a further account to ſettle with the Colonel, challenged him to another combat, which coming to the knowledge of the Sheriffs, they put them both under arreſt yeſterday, and being brought to the Court of King's-Bench to give bail to keep the peace, they reciprocally paſſed their words for that purpoſe, and ſhook hands, which is equally binding as bonds, between men of honour.

LONDON, FEBRUARY 22.

On Friday, General Bock, in the Hanoverian ſervice, arrived in town from that Electorate; and it is ſaid he brought ſome diſpatches of importance from the Lords of the Regency there.

Some ſkirmiſhes having happened within Leghorn mole between the Ruſſians and the powers of Barbary, in alliance with his ſublime Highneſs the Porte, the grand Duke of Tuſcany has, with the conſent of the European powers, declared it a free neutralized port.

Letters from Vienna ſay, that a rupture with the Porte is ſoon expected, as ſome demands have been lately preſſed with earneſtneſs concerning Belgrade, Bender, &c.

FEBRUARY 23.

Yeſterday the committee met, and ſettled the half-pay of the ſea-captains, and their report will be made upon next Thurſday to the Houſe of Commons.

The ſmall ſum required by government for the increaſe of the captains half-pay may be ſpared out of Lord Sandwich's annual expence of viſiting the dock-yards, which every year amounts to upwards of 7000l.—The expences of the yachts and the repeated ſalutes of the fleet, &c. amount to an extraordinary ſum.

FEBRUARY 25.

The Race-horſe and Carcaſe bombs, are ordered to be fitted out for the purpoſe of exploring the North pole, to fix the Magnetic needle. Capt. Con. Phipps is to command this expedition.

It is a matter of fact, ſays a correſpondent under the ſignature of An Undertaker, that within theſe ſix weeks paſt no leſs than nineteen perſons have been guilty of the horrid crime of ſuicide in this metropolis, whoſe deaths were attributed to natural cauſes; amongſt which number were ſome who bore reſpectable characters both for fortune and abilities.

The intimation given by Mr. Foote ſome time ago in his puppet-ſhew that a friend of his was turning the ten commandments into two comedies, a commandment for each act, underwent a ſevere animadverſion in the Houſe of Commons laſt Tueſday from Sir William Dolben, and will poſſibly make the modern Ariſtophanes cautious how he jeſts on religious ſubjects for the future.

A correſpondent of veracity has remarked, that more perſons have embarked for America within the laſt ſix months, than for three years before, on account of the great ſtagnation in their ſeveral employments, and the heavy price of proviſions.

Yeſterday the bill to enable foreigners to lend money on eſtates in the Weſt-Indies, paſſed the committee in the Houſe of Lords.

A correſpondent aſſures us, that the following may be depended upon as an authentic account of Lord Bellamont's preſent ſituation. The ball entered at the point of the ſhort rib, and extended itſelf towards the navel; from the entrance of the ball to the extremity of the wound is full five inches and a half, during which proceſs it ſinks deeper to the extremity, where it is of ſuch a depth that notwithſtanding Lord Bellamont's repeated ſolicitations, the phyſicians and ſurgeons that attend him do not think it ſafe to open the three laſt inches of the wound, which renders it very doubtfull whether the ball can be extracted. The open wound is in as good a ſtate as can be expected; but the covered wound does not ſeem inclined to heal, notwithſtanding it hath ceaſed all diſcharge, ſince it threw off three pieces of his coat, that were carried in by the ball. In this ſituation, the phyſical gentlemen declare, they cannot pretend to pronounce what may be the event, although they conceive favourable expectations from his Lordſhip's good habit of body; to which his perfect compoſure of mind has from the firſt moment greatly contributed. His Lordſhip has been conſtantly attended by Dr. Heberden, Mr. Hawkins, Mr. Adair, Mr. Tomkins, and Mr. Atkinſon. His Lordſhip has been ſome days out of bed, but there is no appearance of his being able to leave his room for a conſiderable time to come.

Extract of a Letter from Cornwall, dated February 17.

"All the Tinners have riſen, and been plundering the country theſe ten days. On the 6th, near 150 went to Ruan, where they were fired on, and ſome wounded; however, they carried off and ſold what corn they thought proper. On Monday and Tueſday they were at Falmouth and Penryn; at the latter of which places they were innumerable, and drove the ſoldiers from their gariſon to an inn, which they endeavoured to break into, to take their arms from them; on which the ſoldiers fired and killed one, ſhot another through the body, who lay for dead, and wounded numbers. Notwithſtanding they did not quit the town, 'till they had plundered the mills and malthouſes. An unhappy girl, with a child in her arms, in Dr. Coade's houſe, was ſhot through the body, and died ſoon after. They have been plundering in different parts ſince; at Truro, the 20th, they carried off about 60 buſhels from Treague, the miller, and came again the next day, when the inhabitants of all ranks took up arms, and being reinforced by ſome ſoldiers, forced them to retreat; they are now diſperſed over different parts of the country, plundering the inhabitants of corn, money, proviſions, apparel, &c. and are ſo very deſperate as to ſtop every perſon they meet on the highway, and oblige them to give them money. On Thurſday they were at Tolvern, where they winnowed and took a quantity of barley, &c. We have ſent to the War-Office for troops, and the whole country is arming. At Falmouth they have planted cannon at the town's end, and all the inhabitants that are able, carry arms; we have likewiſe guarded Penryn, Tolvern, and King Harry's paſſage, with 300 men, and a large party at Trefilian bridge: In ſhort, we are raiſing men, caſting ball, and conſulting every means to ſtop their progreſs."

FEBRUARY 27.

Thurſday night the young Prince was baptized, in the Council-Chamber, St. James's, by his Grace the Lord Archbiſhop of Canterbury, by the name of Auguſtus-Frederick; Lady Charlotte Finch, governeſs to the royal children, attended the ceremony, preſented the Prince to the Archbiſhop, and afterwards ſat in a grand ſtate chair with the child, till all the Nobility had ſeen it.

The Miniſtry is again reſtored to a ſtate of unanimity, and nothing but ſmiles appear in the cabinet, the King has held different conſultations with his different great men, and convinced them that concord is the only method either of ſerving him, or of doing the buſineſs of their country.

Great damage was done to the ſhipping in the Thames on Thurſday night and yeſterday morning by the high winds: from Greenwich to London-bridge but few ſhips eſcaped; ſome were diſmaſted, others loſt their bowſprits and rudders, ſeveral corn veſſels and colliers were ſunk, the greateſt part driven from their moorings were forced againſt each other, and much damaged, many were drove on ſhore, but it is hoped that they will be got off. We hear ſome lives were loſt in endeavouring to ſecure the ſhips at their moorings. Many ſmall boats were daſhed to pieces by the ſhips being driven upon them as they lay at the landing-places.

Letters from Copenhagen adviſe, that on the 2d inſt. a courier arrived there from the Daniſh Miniſter at the Court of Peterſburgh, on the opening of whoſe diſpatches orders were immediately iſſued for four men of war and two frigates to poſſeſs the different ſtations at the Sound. The order was executed as ſpeedily as poſſibly, but the reaſon was unknown when theſe letters came away.

MARLBOROUGH, February 26. On Tueſday evening laſt, one Scarlet, a noted cock-fighter at Burbage, in this county, eat for a premium of 12 s. 6 d. at the Bear and Caſtle in this town, a raw cock of four pounds weight, which had been killed that day in fighting. He eat with it bread, pepper, ſalt, and vinegar. After Scarlet had done, another canibal, his companion, eat for a trifling reward, at the Bell, in Kingſbury-ſtreet, a cock of five pounds weight, without any bread. This latter, worſe than ſavage, not content with diſplaying his firſt brutiſh feats, out of a bravado, eat a raw rat that had been dead four days.

LONDON, MARCH 2.

We are informed, that the Earl of Bellamont is now in ſo dangerous a ſtate, that his Lordſhip is not expected to live; news of which was ſent yeſterday to Lord Townſhend, at Cambridge, who is now there on a viſit to his Lordſhip's ſon, a ſtudent in the Univerſity. His Lordſhip has left poſitive orders, that an account ſhall be ſent to him daily of the ſtate of his noble Antagoniſt's health.

Yeſterday the third regiment of foot, commanded by Sir Jeffrey Amherſt, marched from Chatham barracks through St. James's park, and on Conſtitution hill were viewed on their march by his Majeſty. It is ſaid they are going to Cornwall, to protect the inhabitants of thoſe parts againſt the outrages of the tinners.

RATISBON, (Germany) January 14. Every one is impatient to know what will be the end of the great warlike preparations making in Denmark and Sweden, notwithſtanding thoſe two Courts have declared they were only for the ſecurity of their reſpective eſtates. It is, however, well known, that the Miniſters of France and Spain have, by order of their Court, demanded of that of Vienna, to know what part it would take in caſe Sweden ſhould be attacked, as it was preſumed ſome project was on foot to be commenced next ſpring. It is aſſerted, that the Court of Vienna anſwered, that it would remain neuter as long as it was compatible with their intereſt ſo to do.

LONDON, MARCH 4.

By authentic letters from Turin, which arrived yeſterday, we are aſſured of the death of Charles Emanuel the IIId, King of Sardinia and Duke of Savoy, who departed this life about ten days ſince, in the ſeventy-ſecond year of his age. He was the ſon of the celebrated Victor-Amadeus, and acceded to the throne upon the reſignation of his father, in September 1730. He was eſteemed one of the greateſt generals, as well as one of the ableſt politicians in Europe. He was exceedingly well verſed in the buſineſs of negociation, which he never truſted at all to his Miniſters, who were ſeldom acquainted with his treaties till they came to ſigning, and ſometimes not then. His whole ſtudy was the intereſt of his ſubjects, which he perfectly underſtood, and ſteadily purſued. His ſituation made this requiſite; his penetration brought this very early to his notice, and having once conceived its importance, it became his rule of action to his life's end. He is ſucceeded by his eldeſt ſon, who is eſteemed a Prince of very amiable qualities.

Mr. Foote, in his new materials means to give a ſcene with Punch and himſelf, who will ſpare neither theatres, ſtate, or the licentious world: Some rich characters will be held up to view, as well as ſtrong likeneſſes given in wood.

VIENNA, (Germany) February 11. A ſtrong report prevails here, that the Electoral troops of Saxony are taken into the pay of France.

COPENHAGEN, (Denmark) February 11. All the captains and chief Commanders of the royal navy of Denmark were ſummoned to appear before the board of Admiralty on the 8th inſtant, when they received orders to take in twelve months proviſion with all ſpeed. The victualling-office had been previouſly appriſed of this, and the orders were ſo ſtrictly attended to, that they began the very ſame day to take in biſcuit, &c.

LONDON, MARCH 8.

Yeſterday her Majeſty appeared at the Drawing-room, St. James's, for the firſt time ſince her lying-in; the court was very numerous.

We can aſſure our readers from indiſputable authority, that an attempt was made to extract the ball from Lord Bellamont's belly, on Thurſday laſt, by his Lordſhip's deſire; that the attempt proved unſucceſsful, although it is thought Mr. Adair felt the ball, but loſt it again while the gentlemen of the faculty were conſulting of the propriety of enlarging the orifice of the wound, in order to afford a proper paſſage for the bullet.

MARCH 9.

If the city ſucceeds in eſtabliſhing triennial Parliaments, it will baffle the efforts of lordly corruption, and reſtore virtue to the conſtitution.

Lord Sandwich left the town yeſterday, attended by a great number of Huntingdonſhire freeholders, to try their ſtrength, and the appearance they might make againſt their opponents upon the enſuing election.

The purport of the petition from the city of London, which was ordered to be preſented to the Houſe of Commons, was, to requeſt Parliament to grant a bounty of 4s. a quarter on a limited quantity of wheat to be imported into any of the ports of this kingdom between the 31ſt of March and the 31ſt of July next.

Sir Baſil Keith, a Captain of the navy, and a native of Scotland, is appointed Governor of Jamaica. There were three unſucceſsful Engliſh competitors for this appointment.

The government of Jamaica, next to the government of Ireland, is the moſt valuable in the King's gift; it is a good 10,000l. ſterling a year, and the inhabitants are remarkable for living in harmony with their Governor, if he only ſhews the common urbanity of manners which ſhould diſtinguiſh a private gentleman.

The additional pay granted to the navy Captains is finally concluded, will be paid out of the ſupplies of the year, and will come to them in October payment. When it is conſidered, that Admiralty and Miniſtry moſt ſtrenuouſly oppoſed this buſineſs; it was carrying a high victory, and proved that the Houſe of Commons has ſtill ſome original parliamentary virtue; for we have found 154 pippins ſound, though the reſt of the fruit is rotten to the very core.

The fourth battalion of the Royal regiment of Artillery, commanded by Capt. Ord, is now under orders to embark for North-America, to relieve the firſt battalion of the ſaid regiment, on that ſtation.

The Biſhop of Oſnaburg is ſaid to have very quick parts. When the Prince of Wales, the laſt week, ſeemed greatly mortified at not being permitted to receive the gentlemen of the principality, the Biſhop broke out, "Why, brother, I believe I ſhall ſee my German ſheep before you will your Welch goats."

On Sunday morning a duel was fought with piſtols in Hyde-Park, between a navy Captain and a gentleman of Little Chelſea, who received a wound in the left ſhoulder, which occaſioned a great effuſion of blood; however, the ball was extracted in the afternoon, and no fatal conſequences are apprehended to enſue from the wound.

On Sunday night, about nine o'clock, a duel was fought in St. James's Square, between Capt. An——ty and Ch———r Bl——e, Eſq; a gentleman well known on the turf, in which the latter received a ſevere wound on the thigh. They fought with ſmall ſwords; the ſeconds were Mr. B——d and the Hon. Mr. St——pe.

The above affair aroſe from an affront given that day from the Captain to Mr. Bl——e, at the Scavoir Vivre club. Mr. Tomkyns attends the latter, whoſe wound is not ſaid to be mortal.

Letters from Cornwall, mention, that the riots of the tinners begin to abate; and that it is ſuppoſed they will ſoon diſperſe.

A letter from Cadiz ſays, That the Engliſh Conſul to Morocco, who had received poſitive orders from the Britiſh Court to inſiſt on the Emperor's permitting him to reſide at Tetuan, had received a final refuſal from the Emperor; in conſequence of which he had returned to Gibraltar, to wait further orders from the Britiſh Court.

ST. JAMES'S, March 8. This day the Count de Scarnafis, Envoy-Extraordinary from the King of Sardinia, had a private audience of his Majeſty, to deliver his new credentials, and to notify the death of the late King of Sardinia.

LONDON, MARCH 10.

The Duke of Richmond declared in a late general Court at the Eaſt-India Houſe, that notwithſtanding Parliament reſtricted the Company, by a violation of their charter, from ſending out ſupervifors to India, yet that Government meant to ſend out perſons of their own appointment; and for the veracity of what he ſaid, told the Court, that if they would fix on any one Gentleman of honour, he would ſatisfy him that what he had ſaid was founded on the moſt reſpectable authority.

Extract of a Letter from the Hague, February 26.

"They write from Hamburgh, that as there is little likelihood of an accommodation between the King of Pruſſia and the Regency of Dantzick, conſequently the fate of that place is very precarious; ſeveral of the moſt opulent inhabitants have reſolved to quit Dantzick, and ſettle at Hamburgh and Lubeck, in order to enjoy their fortunes in peace and ſecurity.

"The Pruſſian Envoy at the Hague had a conference with the States-General a few days ago, when it is ſaid he made ſome freſh repreſentations on behalf of the King his Maſter, relative to the demands of the inhabitants of the duchy of Cleves upon this republic, for furniſhing their troops with neceſſaries, when they were in the duchy ſo long as in the laſt century; but it is thought their High Mightineſſes will pay very little regard to ſuch pretenſions.

"According to the laſt letters from Madrid, the King of Spain has ordered a camp to be formed this month near Valencia, which is to conſiſt of 52 ſquadrons of horſe, and 24,000 foot; the deſign of this is not known, but moſt people think it too early in the ſeaſon for a camp of amuſement. Some letters from Italy inſinuate, that the King of Sardinia propoſes to aſſemble an army of 30,000 men this ſummer."

Lord Cheſterfield ſeeing the advertiſement of a letter in one of the news-papers yeſterday, addreſſed to the Earl of Bute on his patronage of Muſic, the celebrated Nobleman obſerved, that it was high time for Lord Bute to encourage Harmony, ſince no man had ever been the cauſe of more Diſcord in this kingdom.

MARCH 11.

The conſideration of the petition from the City of London, relative to the high price of proviſion, is deferred for 3 months.

On Thurſday night a meeting of many of the Livery was held at the Half Moon Tavern, Cheapſide, when Mr. Biſhop was voted in the chair, to conſider of the moſt eligible mode to be purſued, reſpecting the Common Hall, which is to be held this day at Guildhall; an Addreſs, Petition, and Remonſtance, was prepared by a committee appointed for that purpoſe, the heads of which are;—the Middleſex election, the impriſonment of the Magiſtrates in the Tower,—and the eraſure of a judicial record. The committee alſo proceeded to prepare a vote, which is to be ſubmitted to the Livery in Common Hall, for ſhortening the duration of Parliaments; And likewiſe a ſolemn engagement to be entered into by the candidate, previous to his ſtanding as a repreſentative of London, the purport of which is, to vote for, and uſe his intereſt to procure, annual, or at leaſt triennial Parliaments.

The Lord-Mayor took the chair exactly at one o'clock, accompanied by the Sheriffs, and the Aldermen Wilkes, Sawbridge, Bull, Plomer and Thomas.

The buſineſs of the Hall was opened and explained in a ſhort addreſs to the Livery from the Common Serjeant, who recommended temper and moderation to them, in diſcuſſing ſubjects of ſuch great and national importance as thoſe now prepared to be laid before them.

Mr. Biſhop then ſtepped forward, and preſented a Petition and Remonſtrance prepared at the previous meeting of the Livery on Tueſday laſt, and moved that it might be read; which was agreed to.

This remonſtrance and petition was in ſubſtance the ſame as thoſe which have been formerly carried up to the Throne. It complains of the corruption and mal-adminiſtration of the Miniſtry—of the venality of Parliament—of the perverſion of public Juſtice—of the violation of the Right of Election—of the impriſonment of the Lord-Mayor and another Member, for doing their duty—of the Eraſure of the Records—of the neglect and diſregard ſhewn their former Petitions, "hardy brooked by the high ſpirit of a great and free People"—in ſhort, it ſpeaks as plainly and boldly as any of the former Petitions, but contains no new article of complaint—and concludes, as before, with praying the King to diſſolve the Parliament, and put away his evil Counſellors.

This Remonſtrance being twice read, was agreed to, and ordered to be tranſcribed by the Town-Clerk, though not without being oppoſed by Mr. Wellings, of the Poultry; who, after ſaying a great deal to perſuade his hearers that he could not ſpeak at all, declared he could not aſſent to this remonſtrance being preſented, as it was only a ſecond part of the ſame tune that had been played before——to no purpoſe. He aſſigned ſeveral other reaſons, which were received with great good humour; but produced no other effect than a loud laugh at Mr. Wellings's oratory, we ſuppoſe, which put us in mind of an old woman's ſcolding.

Mr. Biſhop next moved, and it was agreed to, that the City Members, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs, and Livery, be deſired to carry up this Petition to the Throne; and that the Sheriffs do wait upon his Majeſty to know when he will pleaſe to accept it.

Mr. Sheriff Lewis then opened the other part of the buſineſs in a ſhort but elegant Speech. A reſolution, and a form of an engagement was accordingly read, moved for, and agreed to. [For both which ſee the Supplement.]

Mr. Wellings offered ſome ſtrange objections both to the reſolution and engagement, which ſhared the ſame fate as thoſe he had thrown out againſt the remonſtrance.

Mr. Biſhop concluded the buſineſs of the day by moving, that the thanks of the Common Hall be given the Lord Mayor for his impartial conduct on this occaſion; which was agreed to unanimouſly—and it was obſerved, that even Mr. Wilkes held up his hand for the motion.

His Lordſhip thanked the Livery for this mark of their approbation; and aſſured them, that while he lived, he would always, to the beſt of his judgment, do his duty.

Then the Hall broke up.

We are ſorry to inform our readers, that there is not now the leaſt proſpect of ſeeing the tyrants who plundered and maſſacred in the Eaſt, called to account:—They are ſafe under the ſhelter of his Majeſty's wings. Lord Clive, on the firſt alarm, excited in the Houſe of Commons by that buſineſs, made his peace with the King, and ſtipulated that all the culprits who followed his ſteps in blood ſhould remain untouched. The Nabobs may now enjoy their plunder in peace, and no foe remains to diſturb them—except, indeed, their conſcience.

The reconciliation between the King and his Brothers is not, we hear, to take place this year, becauſe the viſible breach between them ſaves his Majeſty a conſiderable ſum of money. Now, there is not much of this to be ſpared at preſent in Court, as the alarm raiſed in the kingdom by the report of new ſupplies to be demanded, rendered it neceſſary that that demand ſhould be for the preſent ſeſſion laid aſide, and nothing but the ſtricteſt œconomy can enable the royal coffers to ſtand out the expence of the current year.

A letter from Conſtantinople confirms the news, that Ali Bey is maſter of Jaffa, Jeruſalem, and other chief towns of Syria. It alſo adds, that Reis Effendi, the Sultan's ſecretary, was diſgraced, and was to be ſucceeded by Oſman Effendi, the late Turkiſh Miniſter at Peckzani; and that Moldavangi Ali Pacha, who had the command of affairs in the Dardanelles, died in an apoplectic fit.

The preparations for war in Turky are indefatigable; numerous reinforcements are added to the army; and ſo little hopes have the Divan of peace from the negociations at Buchareſt, that the Turkiſh army is now in every reſpect ready for the field.

The preſent ſtate of Europe is very critical. All the Powers (except England) are extremely aſſiduous in making warlike preparations, and yet profeſs to have no hoſtile intentions immediately in view. Though the general diſtruſt of each other's honeſty and friendſhip undoubtedly muſt have great force in ſetting their reſpective dominions in a ſtate of defence, yet it is certain, that the German powers are ſtill in a doubt with regard to the diviſion of Poland, and that the Northern Potentates are exceeding jealous of each other, from ancient grudges and modern innovations. The Empreſs of Ruſſia, by her ſuſpicious conduct, gave Sweden the alarm; and though theſe ſuſpected circumſtances were followed by great profeſſions of peace and friendſhip, this probably was only a ſtratagem to put off the alarm 'till her Poliſh intrigues were ſettled. Sweden is accordingly in arms, prepared for the worſt; and Denmark, neighbour-like, follows the example. When clouds gather in the North, it is not eaſy to diſperſe them.

MARCH 12.

Yeſterday a motion was made by Mr. Preſcott in the Houſe of Commons, for leave to bring in a bill to amend, explain and enforce an act of his late Majeſty to prevent ſtock-jobbing, and ſeveral other ſpecies of gaming: he was ſeconded, and a bill was accordingly agreed to be brought in.

MARCH 13.

Letters by yeſterday's mail mention, that all ſtrangers that are found in Poliſh Pruſſia, are taken up and enrolled without diſtinction.

Leave is given to bring in a bill for the better cultivation, improvement, and regulation of the common arable fields, waſtes, and commons of paſture in the kingdom, and adjuſting the tithes thereof.

Extract of a Letter from Warſaw, February 20.

"Every thing which is done at the congreſs of Buchareſt is kept very ſecret, and even at Peterſbourg they do not ſeem to know more of what is going forward than we do. However, the laſt advices from thence mention, that thoſe who pretend to know what is tranſacting at the congreſs, are generally of opinion that there is more appearance of a continuation of the war, than the concluſion of a peace, againſt which the independance of the Crimea ſeems to be a material obſtacle; and the more the Plenipotentiaries advance, the more difficulties are raiſed on each ſide. We likewiſe hear from Peterſbourg, that the Court has ſent a ſecond Ultimatum to M. Obreſkow, which is leſs favourable to the Turks than the former. So that inſtead of an approaching peace, ſo much to be deſired by all Europe, it is to be feared that war will be again renewed, which ſeems to be confirmed by the great preparations making by the belligerent powers."

WARSAW, February 20. A letter from Cracow, dated the 16th, informs us, "That the Auſtrians entered that place on the 13th, and Colonel Mitrowſki has been declared commandant, who ſent for M. Gruſcki, Superintendant of the Poliſh Chamber, and ordered him to ſhut up his office, informing him that the Imperial and Royal Chamber, which was at preſent fixed at Caſimir, was immediately to be removed to Cracow. A meſſage has alſo been ſent to M. Ryſicwick, Adminiſtrator of the Royal Domains, demanding his regiſters and keys." This event has thrown this city into the greateſt conſternation, as we know not what further changes are intended, and the Auſtrians and Pruſſians are daily advancing near this city.

LONDON, MARCH 15.

Every thing on the Continent begins to wear the fierce aſpect of war. A courier arrived from France on Thurſday night, when a Cabinet-Council was held, and ſome diſpatches made in conſequence thereof. The following morning the French Ambaſſador had a long private audience of the King.

It is alſo certain that the Emperor of Germany is in motion with his army; and the King of Pruſſia is bending his courſe towards Hanover.

It is undoubtedly true, that two armies in France are already in motion; one is marching for Germany, and the other for Italy.

The King of Sweden is aſſembling his troops, and will begin his attack on Norway as ſoon as the ſeaſon will permit.——Do theſe various belligerent motions look like a laſting peace or a rapid war?

Bets are now five to four, that Europe is in arms before June. The Empreſs of Ruſſia has reſolved upon a freſh atttack againſt the Turks.

A Court of Common Council is ſummoned to meet to-morrow at Guildhall.

The great ſeverity of the Tythe-laws, and the rigour with which they are inforced, have induced ſome ſpirited perſons to conſider of a petition to Parliament for redreſs in this matter. It is argued, that theſe laws tend in a great degree to the deſtruction of agriculture, to increaſe the price of proviſions, and to leſſen the employ of labourers; conſiderations which make a reviſal of them of the greateſt conſequence to the community in general, but to the landed intereſt in particular.

Extract of a Letter from Glaſgow, Sunday Night, March 7.

"There is juſt now a riot at Greenock among the Sailors, who inſiſt that their wages ſhould commence immediately on their going aboard at the Tail of the Bank, inſtead of when they ſet ſail, as was the practice formerly. They are aſſembled to the number of 500, headed by ſome Iriſhmen. They have not only prevented the ſhips from ſailing, but put a ſtop to all buſineſs at the port, and will not even allow tobacco to be weighed at the King's ſcales. What military we have here, which is only about 100 men, are gone down this morning."

Another letter received ſince from Glaſgow, mentions, "That the mob continuing to behave in a riotous manner, the magiſtrates read the Riot Act; the mob ſtill continuing, the ſoldiers fired their pieces over the people's head, when two women were killed, and a man and woman dangerouſly wounded. The military then ſeized ſome of the ringleaders, and the mob diſperſed. They, however, aſſembled again at midnight, and the magiſtrates thought it prudent to deliver up the perſons they had taken. This morning letters were received by General Oughton, deſiring the aſſiſtance of more of the military, which are immediately to be ſent."

[NUMB. 1950.] MONDAY, MAY 3, 1773.

CHARLES-TOWN: Printed by T. POWELL & Co. at the Printing-Office near the EXCHANGE.

A VOCABULARY.

RELIGION.] A ridiculous compoſition of unfaſhionable ordinances, inſtituted with no other deſign than to check every laudable impulſe of vice and immorality, and calculated for no other purpoſe than to deſtroy the very eſſence of a fine gentleman.

Generoſity] A pitiful under-hred promptitude to reward the merit of the deſerving, like

Humanity.] Which is nothing more than a childiſh waſhineſs of nature at the ſufferings, and an inclination to remove the misfortunes, of other people.

Gratitude.] A narrow-minded deſpicable remembrance of benefits received, and a ſcandalous deſire of embracing every opportunity to return them.

Honour.] An idle regard to the dictates of friendſhip and benevolence, and a paltry adherence to the minuteſt law of order and morality.

Honeſty.] A fooliſh regard to the ſanctity of our words upon every occaſion, and a ſervile abhorrence to the ſmalleſt treſpaſs upon the property of our neighbours.

Courage.] A low-minded averſion of brutality to ſuch as, from ſituation in life, muſt not preſume to reſent a horſe whipping, or complain at the loſs of an eye; and a ſilly deſire of avoiding all quarrels but ſuch as relate to the honour of our king or the glory of our country.

Decency.] A mean obſervation of common civility, and an infamous ſuppreſſion of oaths and obſcenity in the preſence of the ladies.

A mechanic.] A ſuperior ſort of Coach-horſe, created entirely for the convenience of the great, without either paſſions, reſentment, underſtanding, or inclination.

Unpardonable impudence.] An humble ſolicitation for a perſon's own property, and a prudent concern for the maintenance of our wives and children.

Pride and prodigality.] The ſmalleſt diſtaſte to poverty and rags, and the leaſt inclination to a light-coloured ſhirt.

Debt.] A word under which perſons of faſhion have a right to rob the honeſt and induſtrious, without any fear of ſuffering from the laws of the kingdom, or the reproach of their acquaintance.

A free-born Engliſhman.] One who is continually bragging of liberty, and independance, when he has neither will nor property of his own, and laughs at the wretchedneſs of other countries, while he himſelf is indulged with no other privilege than the right of nominating the perſon by which he chuſes to be enſlaved.

Magna charta.] An idle word made uſe of by the populace, ſignifying a natural right of being governed by laws which they conſtantly ſuffer to be trampled on, and an inherent claim to the poſſeſſion of thoſe privileges, which they have neither ſenſe or ſpirit enough to poſſeſs.

A ſecretary of ſtate.] A great officer in whom crimes are no crimes, and who, by a political ſpecies of inability, can exerciſe acts of oppreſſion, without ever dreading the rod of correction, or regarding the poignancy of general reproof.

The people of Ireland.] A noble and ſpirited nation, inviolably attached to us by every tie of friendſhip and eſteem, and who, on every occaſion, hazard both their lives and fortunes in our defence; yet, to whom we conſtantly make ſuch jeſt and grateful returns, as to omit no opportunity (however illegal and arbitrary) of beggaring them, though the ruin of their intereſt lays a manifeſt foundation for the deſtruction of our own.

The lords of the ocean.] The ſenſible and ſpirited people of Great Britain, who have a naval force conſiderably ſuperior to all the other ſtates of Europe put together, yet ſervilely do homage to a neſt of little African pirates on the coaſt of Barbary, and pay a yearly tribute to a ſet of robbers, whom they ought to root out from the face of the earth.

An independent freeholder and lover of his country.] One who, on every election for a member of parliament, ſacrifices his conſcience to his convenience, ſets up his dear country, and his darling freedom to the beſt bidder, yet impudently finds fault with his repreſentative for following ſo laudable an example, nor ſuffers any body to be a ſcoundrel, without reproach, but himſelf.

A peerage.] In former days an honour conferred upon ſuch as had rendered themſelves conſpicuous for their merit, and eminent for their virtues; but in the more modern ages it has been, in general, the wages of venality and corruption, and a diſtinction not to be purchaſed at a ſmaller price than everlaſting infamy and diſgrace.

A regard for the royal prerogative.] A worn out pretence to infringe upon the laws, and a glaring deſign upon the privileges of the people.

National egotiſm or gaſconade.] An unpardonable cuſtom among the French, of extolling their own merit to the ſkies, but never practiſed among the modeſt natives of this kingdom, tho' our preſſes are every moment teeming with ſons of liberty, roaſt-beef and pudding, noble-minded Britons, and free-born Engliſhmen.

A bleſſed martyr.] A perjured Prince, who broke his coronation oath in the moſt material of all points, governed without a parliament, impriſoned his ſubjects for refuſing to lend him money, commenced a falſe villainous proſecution for high treaſon, againſt a moſt deſerving nobleman, (the earl of Briſtol) whom he knew to be innocent, becauſe that lord had impeached the duke of Buckingham, whom he knew to be guilty; reduced his people to the dreadful neceſſity of taking up arms in their own defence, which produced the utmoſt confuſion in religion and ſtate; and by his ſhameful diſſimulation when he was about to be reſtored, left it utterly impoſſible to confide in his honour, his humanity, or his oath; but drove the principal officers of the adverſe party in their own defence, to ſit in trial upon their ſovereign and ſentence him to death.—Truly a very bleſſed martyr!—Had this prince been a private man, who would have dared to ſay a word in his defence, though ſuch a number of writers have pleaded his royalty, which ought to be an aggravation, as a conſiderable palliative, nay a total excuſe, for his crimes.—

LONDON, MARCH 12.

Gentlemen of the Livery,

I MUST beg your ſerious attention to a motion which is univerſally admitted to be of the utmoſt importance to the liberty of the ſubject and the freedom of this country: A motion for ſhortening the duration of Parliaments. Gentlemen, this ſeems to be a criſis which calls upon you to exert every nerve to promote its ſucceſs; in vain will you proteſt againſt the proceedings of your repreſentatives, unleſs you take ſome effectual method, at the approaching General Election, to prevent thoſe enormities in future. Let this truth, that all power is derived from the people, be engraven on your minds; and let the impreſſion, never to be obliterated, be rivetted in the breaſt of every freeman of this country; for, thank God, we are yet free; notwithſtanding corruption hath erected its ſtandard, and made great ſtrides towards deſpotiſm. The appeal is therefore, by the conſtitution of this country, lodged in the people, in their choice of repreſentatives. The legiſlature enjoys its power by delegation. Thoſe powers they have ſhamefully abuſed. Our repreſentatives, in the wantonneſs of their uſurped powers, have denied our conſtituents, to whom they owe their political exiſtence, even the right of inſtructing them; this doctrine they have attempted to inculcate; but I hope the virtue of my Fellow-Citizens will never ſuffer it to be eſtabliſhed, becauſe it is pregnant with the worſt of conſequences.

Septennial repreſentation hath given undue influence to government; it hath created ſervility in the conſtitution, and occaſioned diſtreſs among the people. To ſhorten the duration of Parliament will therefore be laying the ax at the very root of the tree of corruption.

I am afraid we have little to expect from Great and Powerful Men; they ſeldom act in concert with the people, but when it coincides with ſome private views of their own; the fate of this country, therefore, depends upon the virtue of middling and lower claſſes of the people; and I hope you, Gentlemen of the Livery, will ſet the example to the electors of England, by adopting this motion for ſhortening the duration of Parliament.

The reſolution of the Livery is nearly as follows:

"We, the Liverymen of the city of London, in Common-Hall aſſembled, taking into our moſt ſerious conſideration the pernicious effects of long Parliaments, and being convinced that the moſt effectual remedy for the many grievances under which the people of this country have ſo long laboured, is to be found in a frequent appeal to the people by ſhort Parliaments; do reſolve, that we will NOT vote for, countenance or ſupport, either directly or indirectly, any candidate to repreſent this city in Parliament, until he ſhall have, previous to his ſtanding forth as a candidate, ſolemnly aſſented to, and ſigned an engagement for ſhortening the duration of Parliament."

"I A. B. do moſt ſolemnly engage my word and honour, that as I live I will faithfully and ſincerely endeavour, to the utmoſt of my power, to promote and procure, and having procured to maintain and continue, a perpetual Act of Parliament to ſhorten the duration of Parliaments, and to reſtore and preſerve to the people their conſtitutional right of an annual, or if that cannot be obtained, at leaſt a triennial choice of repreſentatives; and if I am a member of either Houſe of Parliament, when a motion for the above purpoſe ſhall be made, I will not fail to attend and give my utmoſt ſupport to ſuch motion."

For SALE privately,
The following Property of BENJAMIN GUERARD,
Which he is deſirous of SELLING,
To have his Intereſt in one Place, viz.
A Very valuable Tract of 1000 Acres of Land, ſituate in Prince William's Pariſh, between Combahee and Port-Royal Ferries, having on it a Sufficiency of choice high Land for two profitable Indico Plantations; between which Two Hundred and Fifty Barrels of Rice may be made in a Year, as Ground to yield that Quantity of Barrels can be flowed with Water.—No Part of it was ever planted, but Sixty or Eighty Acres are cleared to begin one Plantation, FRESH and NEW, and therefore the BETTER and CHEAPER. It is eſteemed as fine a Tract for its Size as moſt in the Province, the up Land being high, ſo that Land Floods can never hurt the Crops of Indico and Corn thereon planted:——The Purchaſer, from the Red-Oak Trees that muſt unavoidably come down, in order to his making his Fields, may ſtrip a vaſt Number of Cords of Bark.
So complete a Tract as this, and of the like Diſtance from Charles-Town, is very rarely to be found for Sale; which would require no Recommendation, if a View by every one in Want of ſuch could be taken of it, and which, conſidering the high Price of good Lands, will be ſold cheap.——It pays no Quit-Rents, being Part of the Rich Lands included in Thomas Lowndes's Grant; and, as 'tis too late in the Seaſon to prepare for Planting for the enſuing Crop, the Purchaſer's Bond ſhall not carry Intereſt 'till Six Months from the Date are elapſed.
A delightful RETREAT,
Eight Miles by Land or Water from Town, known to be as well ſituated for Pleaſantneſs and Agreeableneſs of Proſpect as moſt Seats in the Province; on which, open to ſeveral Parts of that beautiful River, Aſhley-River, ſtands an elegant Houſe, with handſome commodious Offices.
With which will be SOLD,
The large Quantity of very genteel Furniture
Now in the ſaid Houſe.
A very eaſy and deſirable Diſtance for a Carriage and Four or Six Horſes, as a Gentleman may come to his Buſineſs in Town in the Morning, and return to his Family in the Evening.——The Inconvenience of not having ſuch a Place for a Family, is at all Times great, and much more ſo, when contagious Diſorders rage in the Metropolis, or thoſe few Months in the Year arrive, ſo deſtructive to Infants kept in Town.
It contains Three Hundred Acres of Land, and is allowed to have the beſt Paſture in the Neighbourhood (having kept all the Cattle thereabouts in good Condition for ſeveral Years paſt) of which Two are now incloſed with a ſtrong new Fence, as is alſo a Meadow for making Hay; has great Plenty of Fencing and Fire-Wood Trees, and, by a Gentleman having a Turn that Way, may be made a Place of ſome Profit as well as Pleaſure, as good Crops of Corn have been made on it, and one Year, when planted with that Grain, Sixty Barrels of Rice; but what can be more Profitable to grow on it than the Graſs it luxuriantly bears, as HAY (made with a very few Hands) is an Article of ſo great Demand in Town, and never ſells for leſs than Ten Pounds per Thouſand Weight, although often near One-Third Brambles.——It may be viewed at any Time.
His Two HOUSES in Town;
The one on the Corner of the Bay, near the Exchange, and the other adjoining, in Broad-Street, which (and that very low) rent for £. 360 per Annum, and are ſo advantageouſly ſituated for Trade, as will never be untenated;—beſides which Advantage, it is well known theſe Houſes were not built as thoſe which are intended to be Lett, no Coſt nor Pains being ſpared in getting the Materials the beſt of their Kind, which were put together in the moſt faithful and neat Manner;—The Wood Materials are of the beſt of Yellow Pine and Black Cypreſs, and the Mortar made of Freſh-Water River Gravel, ſo ſtrong a Cement as that none of the Tiles in the Great Hurricane 1752, were blown off, whilſt the Roofs of moſt of the Houſes tiled or ſlated were entirely uncovered thereby.
It has been often deſired that the Corner Houſe ſhould be made a COFFEE-HOUSE,—£. 1050 a Year Rent will be inſured, but there is no Doubt that £. 1200 can be got for them, as the Rents were never increaſed ſince the Building of the Exchange, as ſhould be.—The Terms to the Purchaſers ſhall be made as convenient as they can deſire.——Pleaſe to apply to
JACOB VALK.

To be LETT or SOLD,
Two TENEMENTS,
In Colleton's Square, Ellery-Street.
Any Perſon inclinable to purchaſe, ſhall have them on ſuch Terms as to enable him to make Twelve per Cent. Intereſt, for his Money.——For further Particulars, enquire of
JACOB VALK.

A Sober, ſingle MAN, with a good Character, qualified for a SCHOOL-MASTER, will meet with good Encouragement, by applying to either of the Subſcribers on John's-Iſland.

The Pilots are also welcome to make Use of the said Hulk to careen their Boats.
